AS CONFESSED MURDERESS WAS TAKEN AWAY

Mrs. Krauss Admits That She Poisoned Stepdaughter.

SHE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE TWICE.

Life Sentence Given the Indiana Woman Who Detailed in Court Her Awful Crime.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 28.—An indictment by the grand jury, a plea of guilty, a sentence of life imprisonment and on the road to prison, all within six hours, brought the Krauss murder case to a sudden termination yesterday afternoon. Besides the few attorneys in the room as spectators but four men and one boy were there in the court room at the time.

Mrs. Krauss was pale and trembling. About noon the grand jury returned the indictment, charging her with murder in the first degree. At 4:30 she was brought into court and pleaded guilty, at the same time handing the judge her written confession. The case was given to the jury which was immediately impaneled and instructed by the judge to bring in a verdict according to the plea.

The jury was out but a half hour, when a verdict was returned fixing her penalty at life imprisonment.

At 6 o'clock Sheriff Hudson and his wife started for the Interurban station to take her to Indianapolis to the Women's Reformatory. A mob of women and girls followed close on their heels and bussed and kissed them. All the way to the station the women yelled "Hang her!" Mrs. Krauss was badly frightened, and walked so fast that the officer could hardly keep up with her. At the Interurban station the police guarded the door and kept the crowd back.

When the car pulled out a great yell went up from the enraged women. Not a man took part in the affair. It is believed that had it been generally known that she was to be taken away there would have been violence.

The sheriff admitted that Mrs. Krauss twice attempted suicide during her incarceration in jail. Once she took laudanum and afterward tried suffocation by gas.

At the Interurban station the notice had to guard the door to keep out the crowd. Mrs. Krauss was badly frightened and kept close to the sheriff and frequently looked back over her shoulder when the women shouted "Hang her!"

Her written confession is as follows:

"To the Honorable Edwin C. Vaughn.—I, the defendant in the case of the State of Indiana vs. Mrs. Rae M. Krauss, desire to say that I am guilty of the crime as I have been charged and I have confessed to my beloved and grief-stricken husband, I am a broken-hearted and ruined wife, and I am extremely sorry for what I have done. It was done at a time when I was not in full possession of my senses, and I have from now until my dying day to pray to God, who knows us all, to forgive me for the grievous sin I have committed, and I take this means of placing myself in your hands and on your mercy.

"While I have said that I was guilty of the deed, at the time I did not realize the awfulness of the crime, nor did I give thought of what the consequences would be to my home, Crystal, my husband or myself. I did not stop to consider; if I had it would never have been done. I could think of nothing but just to do it. I tried to get away from it, but each time it would come back so much stronger. As I look back now it seems as though some demon had had of my mind and I could not free myself from it. The thought was first put into my mind from just a word dropped.

"I got it into my head that her father was worried and troubled on account of Crystal being determined to keep company with that boy, and that is my only reason I had for the deed. I got it into my head that if I did it there would be nothing to worry him. You can see how little I looked ahead or realized the trouble I was bringing on my husband and myself. All the time I was with him my one wish was to take as many cares as I could from him in every way possible. There was nothing I could not have sacrificed to have made my husband or Crystal happy.

"In our home life, my husband, Crystal and myself were perfectly happy, if that one thought had not got into my head, or if I had had a stronger mind to have thrown it off all would have been well and happy today. This was not done because I had any grudge against or dislike for Crystal, for I did not. I dearly loved the child, and I do not miss her more than I since this dreadful thing happened. In our home life Crystal and I never had a word of contention between us, and I was always delighted to see her happy and having a good time. She was so bright and sweet I loved to be with her. If it had not been for this one thing coming up there would have been anything but happiness in all our lives.

"I have one consolation with all my sufferings and it lightens my burdens a little to know that while I was there I made her home life happy for her. I never spared myself in any way. I took the most of the work on myself. When she wanted to entertain I dropped anything else and helped her with that. When she wanted company to meals I was always ready and glad to do for her and also do anything in my power that her company would have a pleasant time while there; then, after all this, to let my mind get away with me and do such a deed and break up our homes and our hearts!

"In this I am trying to do what is perfectly right, and I hope it is appreciated. Of course I could have gone on trial and done everything very different if I had have chosen to, but out of love for my husband and the wish to do what is right in every way, also the wish to make my recompense I could for the great wrong I have done, has prompted me to put myself in your hands and on your mercy and take whatever punishment you see fit to give me. Since I realize the greatness of my crime it seems as though some stronger power was working through me. I can't believe it possible I did it. I know, now that I am myself again, I could not do it. When I am my natural self no one has a more tender or kinder heart than I have.

"What I did was done at a time when I was not responsible for it. I had worried over it until I was crazy on the subject. If ever any one was punished for a wrong deed, if ever any one has repented a wrong deed I have a thousand times, but of no avail; everything is now past, and it can't be undone. Oh, if it only could, I would give my life in a moment. I can see things so differently now, but, alas, it is all too late. After I would have realized what I had done I shall never be happy again without Crystal in our home. No more to live. I had everything in the world before me, but now besides disgracing both my husband's family as well as my own, and bringing more sorrow into my father's life, it is almost more than I can bear.

"The ones I wanted to make the happiest and the most for are the ones I have brought the most sorrow into their lives. My life has been a blank since that happened. There is not an hour in the day that I don't think of and miss Crystal, my home and my husband. Day and night that longing and yearning for them both is always pulling at my heart, and will until my dying day. All this may be harder for you to believe, and no one can unless they have been through the same thing, but God knows it is the truth. No one but God knows what I have suffered, and will all my life. While I am a criminal in the eyes of the law and the world, I am not at heart. My God, give me strength to bear my burdens and trials, for without Him I cannot. I have put myself in His hands, and His will be done in all things that are to come, mine I am ready and willing to take my punishment whatever it is.

"MRS. M. R. KRAUSS."

AIRSHIP

Floats Gracefully at St. Louis—Benbow's Flying Machine Seems to be a Success.

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—Floating gracefully in the air at an average height of 20 feet above the heads of the several thousand spectators, the airship designed and built by T. C. Benbow of Columbus, Mont., made what the inventor declares was a successful trial flight in the aeronautic course at the world's fair. The big cigar-shaped balloon, bearing its burden of car, motor, machinery and operator, after navigating the air for 15 minutes, during which time Benbow directed the prow of his vessel toward all points of the compass, slowly descended to the ground near the starting place and was secured by the attendants, without a break having marred the success of the flight. While Benbow appeared to have absolute control over the machine, an anchor rope about 50 feet long was used, one end of which was held by an assistant during the entire flight.

VATICAN

Desires Representation at the Second Peace Conference—Powers are Being Sounded.

Rome, Oct. 28.—The Vatican is sounding different powers on the subject of the admission of its representative at the proposed second Hague conference on the same ground as the suggested admission of the South American republics, which were not represented at the first conference. The Vatican emphasized the fact that it was excluded from the first conference chiefly because of the opposition of the Italian government, supported by Great Britain, which asked in exchange Italy's support for the exclusion of representatives of the Boer republic.

LEWIS HARMON

PAYS PENALTY OF HIS CRIME

Slew and Robbed Farmer Geyer Near Columbus.

Without a Tremor Harmon Walked to the Electric Chair and Died at Midnight.

Columbus, O., Oct. 28.—Without a tremor, Lewis Harmon, convicted of complicity in the murder of George Geyer, walked to the electric chair in the penitentiary and at midnight paid the penalty for his crime. While the electric appliances were being adjusted the condemned man announced he had nothing to say. At 12:08 he was pronounced dead. Not a hitch occurred to mar the electrocution. The crime for which Harmon forfeited his life was the murder of George Geyer, a farmer residing near Alton, this county. On the night of June 10, 1903, while Mr. and Mrs. Geyer were asleep, Lewis Harmon, Miles Wallingford and Odie Loveland drove out to their house in a buggy, and while Loveland held the horse and played the part of "lookout" Harmon and Wallingford went in and robbed the couple, and then, as they were about to leave Harmon shot and killed the unresisting old man. Harmon and Loveland were speedily arrested, but Wallingford escaped, going to Texas where he committed suicide in jail. Loveland had been employed in the neighborhood of the Geyer residence. He believed that the old man kept a large sum of money in the house, and telling Harmon and Wallingford of the fact, they conspired to rob him. Loveland has always claimed that it was agreed that there should be no violence in the transaction. He has been granted a reprieve until Nov. 25.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN AFFAIR IS BEING ADJUSTED

The British Cabinet Met at Noon Today.

SITUATION HAS MUCH IMPROVED

Suggestion of Russian Officials Was for Mixed Tribunal to Inquire Into the Affair.

OF RUPTURE NO LONGER EXISTS IT IS SAID

Count Cassini's Views.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, was deeply interested in the dispatches from Russia that the Russian government had not yet received any request from Great Britain for the punishment of the officers responsible for the firing on the British fishermen, if any were found to be responsible. The ambassador said, speaking personally that such a request would be, to say the least, unprecedented. Russia, he added, "can not admit the right of any power to interfere in her internal affairs or even suggest a method of internal administration, and it is to be hoped that no nation will make such suggestion."

BRITISH WARSHIPS MOVE.

Gibraltar, Oct. 28.—The ships of the British channel fleet have cleared decks. It is rumored that the whole fleet, with the exception of the battleship Caesar, will steam westward with the alleged purpose of making a sham attack against the rock of Gibraltar. Several torpedo boats left Tangier fully equipped. Work at the arsenal is proceeding under high pressure. A division of the Mediterranean fleet comprising six battleships, all the armored cruisers and 20 torpedo boats, is expected here.

GERMAN VESSEL FIRED ON.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger dated Geestemünde Oct. 27, 11:55 p. m., says: "The fishing vessel Sonntag, which has arrived here, reported that it had been fired on by the Russian fleet for two and a half hours off Dogger bank, but was not hit."

NO INQUIRY MADE.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—The foreign office says that Russia has not made any inquiries here regarding the opening of the Dardanelles for the passage of her Black sea fleet.

RUSSIAN EMBA.

London, Oct. 28.—At the Russian embassy here the following statement was issued today:

"We are in constant communication with the British government and as a result of these communications the embassy hopes there will be a speedy and satisfactory settlement. The whole aspect of the situation has decidedly improved."

London, Oct. 28.—The Russian Telegram company states that England's demands upon Russia and the notice that unless satisfaction is given concerning the punishment of the officers of the Baltic fleet who fired on the British fleet, the vessels of the Baltic fleet will not be allowed to proceed beyond Tangier.

vessels under repair are being made ready for sea under urgent orders from the admiralty.

The attitude of the French government is held to be of the highest importance. It was said by the representative of another great power that if France had given definite assurances that she would not support Russia in the event of war growing out of the North sea incident, a hostile issue would be almost inevitable, as the temptation to crush the Russian naval power after such provocation could scarcely have been resisted by Great Britain. It is pointed out that it is greatly to France's interest to preserve peace, and her efforts in that direction obviously will be strengthened by not committing herself except at the last moment. So long as Great Britain is not sure whether France will help Russia she will not be likely to engage in war; while Russia, with France neutral, would, so it is thought at most of the embassies here, scarcely invite defeat. The most probable solution of the rumors regarding France's position is said by a high authority to be that she has given both disputants to understand that she does not desire to become involved, but has reserved her final decision.

Exactly what method can be taken to investigate Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's statements does not clearly appear. The Russian embassy here can throw no light upon the alleged presence of torpedo boats in the North sea, the British admiralty has no information, and fresh inquiry among the travelers elicits no new facts. The Russian embassy thinks that further and more elaborate inquiry is proceeding at Vigo, where the testimony of the officers participating in the affair is being minutely recorded.

The apparent contradiction between statements emanating from St. Petersburg and the understanding here as to whether or not Great Britain has demanded the punishment of those responsible for the North sea affair, rises from the fact that while, admittedly, no demands have been submitted by Ambassador Hardinge in St. Petersburg, Foreign Minister Lansdowne, in conversation with Count Benckendorff, has laid down propositions which, to all intents and purposes, are just as much in the nature of demands as if they had been specifically formulated, but would only become "demands" in the strictly diplomatic sense when formulated and presented.

FOUR

Counts in Indictment of Wagoner

CHAIRMAN OF THE OHIO PEN. BOARD OF MANAGERS

And Cashier of Defunct Bank at Akron, Ohio.

PERJURY AND FALSE ENTRIES.

President Buchtel Not Held Responsible for the Condition of the Institution's Affairs.

Akron, O., Oct. 28.—Captain Aaron Wagoner, chairman of the Board of Penitentiary Managers and cashier of the defunct Akron Savings bank, has just been indicted on four counts by the grand jury. Two of the counts charge that Captain Wagoner was guilty of perjury in swearing to false statements as to the bank's condition. The other two charge him with having made false entries in the reports of the bank's condition made to the auditor of the state. Wagoner's attorney, J. A. Bradley, appeared at the office of the clerk of courts soon after the grand jury had reported and arranged to give a bond of $2,000, which was fixed on one of the counts. United States Senator Charles Dick, a director in the defunct bank, was the surety. No other indictments were returned in the case, and a special report of the jury exonerates William Buchtel, member of the legislature, who was president of the bank, from any criminal liability.

Captain Wagoner has been ill for several days past, but when he heard of the jury's report he became suddenly worse and has since been confined to his bed with a physician in attendance. With the Wagoner indictment a special report on the bank was made and signed by all of the grand jurors. The report follows: "The Akron Savings bank was organized in February, 1888. Its capital stock was $200,000, of which $100,000 was issued. William Buchtel has been president since the organization of the bank and Aaron Wagoner has been cashier. "We believe that the age and inexperience of William Buchtel, as an accountant and as a banker, unfitted him for the duties devolving upon him as president, and on account of these the affairs of the bank were left by William Buchtel to the cashier, Aaron Wagoner, in which Mr. Buchtel placed implicit confidence. "We find many irregularities and false entries were made in the reports to the auditor of state, and published in the local newspapers for the benefit of the public. "William Buchtel was appointed receiver of the bank July 31, 1893, and was discharged December 1, 1893. At the time of his discharge as receiver the bank carried as good assets $26,114 of worthless notes, and the same were carried as assets until the bank closed its doors in April, 1904. "In this condition we would say that we were unable to find where a single worthless note had been charged off on the books during the entire life of the bank. "We would also report that at the time the bank closed the bank carried as good assets worthless loans to the amount of $325,000, of which $32,000 in notes could not be found. At the time the bank closed the overdrafts amounted to $56,296.93. Of this the Excelsior Coal company owed $4,697.23. Aaron Wagoner, as agent, owed $10,628.45, and J. J. Wagoner owed $11,363.12. "We also find that the interest due the savings depositors had not been credited to them and charged off on the books. Had this been done no dividend could have been legally declared to the stockholders for the last two years. "We also find from the condition of the affairs of said bank that the bank has been insolvent since 1893. "We would recommend to the representatives of Summit county that legislation be enacted with reference to the management of savings banks and savings institutions, governing the directors and officials of such institutions; also, providing for a state examiner of state and savings banks. "We would also recommend that compensation be allowed to the directors of banks for their services as such, and that no one should accept the position as director of an institution unless he can give it such services as the position requires to give the stockholders and depositors such management as good banking demands."

REPORT

Of Vice Admiral to His Government

CLAIMS HOSTILE SHIPS WERE WITH FISHING FLEET

Official Report Has Been Made Public.

THE DANISH MINISTER'S STORY.

Several Ships Chartered by the Japanese Were at Hull Intending to Attack Russians.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's explanation of the attack of his squadron on British trawlers has probably turned the current of diplomatic negotiations into a new channel. The British foreign office is in courtesy obliged to accept an investigation into circumstances narrated by the Russian admiral, reinforced as it is by the testimony of subordinate officers of the squadron and by the report of the Danish minister of marine, communicated to the Russian government that vessels were known to have been chartered at Hull and in Sweden by the Japanese government for the purpose of attacking the Baltic squadron during its passage of the North sea and English channel.

There are on the one side stories of Russian ships firing upon vessels of several neutral nations, and on the other of incident tending to establish Admiral Rojestvensky's report that there were armed hostile vessels in the vicinity, at least, of the Hull fishing fleet.

Admiral Rojestvensky submitted two dispatches on the North sea tragedy. These have been made public by the naval general staff. The first says:

"The North sea incident was caused by two torpedo boats advancing to attack without lights, under cover of darkness, against the vessel leading the detachment. When the detachment turned on its searchlights and opened fire the presence of several small steamboats resembling steam fishing boats was discovered. The detachment endeavored to spare these and ceased firing as soon as the torpedo boats were out of sight. The English press is indignant because a torpedo boat left by the detachment on the spot until morning did not aid the victims. Now there was not a single torpedo boat near the detachment and none was left behind; consequently the vessel remaining near the small steamboats because we suspected them of complicity on account of their obstinately cutting into the positions of our vessels. Several of them showed no lights, and others only very little."

Says the second report:

"Having met several hundred fishing boats, the squadron showed them every consideration except when they, in company with foreign torpedo boats, of which one disappeared, while the other, according to the fishermen's own evidence, remained among them until morning. They supposed it was a Russian and were indignant because it did not aid the victims; but it was foreign, and remained until morning, seeking the other torpedo boat, its consort, either to repair damage or through fear of betraying itself to those who were not its accomplices. If there were also on the spot fishermen imprudently dragged into the enterprise, I beg in the name of the whole squadron to express my sincere regret to the unfortunate victims of circumstances under which no warship, even in time of deep peace, could have acted otherwise."

Danish Minister's Story.

Copenhagen, Oct. 28.—It is learned that the Danish ministry of marine was informed that several ships chartered by Japanese were at Hull, and intended to attack the Russian second Pacific squadron in the North Sea. The Russian authorities here credit the report. The Danish ministry was officially informed that 11 Swedish vessels had been chartered by the Japanese to attack the Russian squadron in the Baltic. A Danish cruiser and a torpedo boat watched the vessels so closely that their approach to the Russian squadron was impossible.

Register tonight before 9 o'clock.

The Japanese captured a lot of records at court martial in Liao-Yang, and among the lot were some which showed that a number of staff officers had been tried for drunkenness and cowardice.

THE COURTS

CHISM DAMAGE SUIT GOES TO THE JURY.

Mrs. John McNaughten Prays for Alimony—Sues for Dower—Realty Transfers.

In the case of Frank H. Chism vs. the Backus Lake road and others, the court charged the jury this afternoon. Chism brings suit for damages for personal injuries sustained at Heron, while assisting in unloading rails from a car. The suit has been hotly contested, and the testimony is very voluminous. A verdict is expected late this afternoon.

Will Probated.

The will of Joseph Barcus, deceased, of Monroe township, has been admitted to probate, and Ohio Barcus was appointed executor. Bond, $200.

Sues for Alimony.

Edna R. McNaughten, by her attorneys, Fulton & Fulton, has filed a petition in the Common Pleas court asking for alimony from her husband, John R. McNaughten. The plaintiff says that she was married to the defendant on July 25, 1874. Plaintiff says that after their marriage they resided in Iowa until 1894, when her husband sold all his real estate and came back to Ohio; that he told her that he would send for her in the spring; that in the spring of 1895 she came to Ohio and resided with the defendant until 1904, that on account of her ill health she returned to Iowa with the defendant, that as soon as the defendant could make his arrangements he would go to Iowa, where they would make their home. The plaintiff says that she resided in Iowa until 1902 when her daughter, Lena, died; that her husband came home to the funeral and remained but one day, and then returned to Ohio, saying that he would dispose of his property and settle in Iowa. She says that for the past five years he has wholly refused to support her, and that during all that time he has sent her but $5, the greater part of which was expended in the care of her sick daughter. She also charges her husband with infidelity. She says that she has good reason to believe the property owned by the defendant will be disposed of so as to defeat her from obtaining alimony, and asks that her husband be enjoined from disposing of or incurring any property belonging to him before the hearing of this case. A temporary injunction was allowed by Judge Seward.

Could Not Do Better.

The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has won for it a wide reputation and many people throughout the country will agree with Mr. Chas. W. Mattison, of Milford, Va., who says: "It works like magic, and it is the best preparation I know of. It couldn't be any better." He had a serious attack of dysentery and was advised to try a bottle of this remedy, which he did, with the result that immediate relief was obtained. For sale by all druggists.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Velvet shirt waist dresses are in demand for early fall wear.

The combination of two shades of the same color has been carried into neck scarfs.

The newest girdles are of shaded taffeta silk. Those shading from navy to light blue or from seal brown to champagne are the best sellers.

Kid boots, especially those in black or white, are to remain their popularity. Any buckle may be worn with them, but the harness buckle is considered the smartest.

Veilings are more elaborate than in summer, many of them being embroidered in floral designs, printed in dainty colors like the chiffons and mousselines for evening gowns.

Never was so much "shading" seen in plumes, feathers, ribbons, flowers and the new silk and woolen dress fabrics. Some of them are "rainbow" in effect, while others are as lovely as a fine pastel.—New York Tribune.

The New Woman

Another Ancient Superstition Concerning Women Exploded

WOMEN tell all they know, do they? Women can't keep a secret? Listen. The manager of an extensive employment bureau, which places women clerks and stenographers, said lately that business houses generally preferred women for private secretaries because they keep the secrets of their employers' business better than men do. He said this might sound strange at first thought, but experience had proved it to be a fact. Men clerks gossip concerning their employers' affairs and let out trade secrets to a much greater extent than women do. A case in point is well known to have occurred during the summer just passed, where the private dealings of one of the largest business corporations in the world were involved. The one person who knew more about those private affairs than even the directors of the company themselves, because she was the one who kept track of those, was a certain young woman private secretary. Bribes were offered to her, she was flattered, she was threatened, she was coaxed, she was interviewed time and again in the hope that she might let fall some careless word, but she never was trapped. The newspapers called her at length the sphinx and gave her up. This young woman is said to receive $10,000 a year for her services. Then there is that secret society of women called the P. E. O. I don't know what it is; nobody outside of it does know. All the members will tell is that, for one thing, they are banded together in the cause of woman—to aid in the progress and elevation of their own sex. The members of this mysterious order scarcely permit even their names to be discovered, yet whenever these become known they are those of cultured, intellectual, deeply thoughtful women. But they keep their mouths shut, absolutely.

This appears to be the talking incarnation of some people.

There are three kinds of girls "in business," as it is called. One kind is the flibberty girl, who uses her wiles only to get gay clothes wherewith she may capture some man and get away from earning her living, as she fondly imagines. This girl shirks her work, goes to parties nights, has her head full of Man with a large M and is no good to anybody. Then there is the ox girl, who works when she is hitched up, so to speak, quits when the day is over and goes to her stall, with no thought beyond drawing her pay, with no ambition, no aspiration for advancement, promotion or improving herself. The third kind of girl is the wide awake one, whose mind is on her work before all else. She looks out for every opportunity to make herself useful and to be advanced. She learns all she can in every department of her employer's undertakings and takes the interest in them that she would in her own. If opportunity for an independent enterprise appears she is ready to seize it and improve it. This kind of girl always accumulates a competency, often a fortune.

Miss Jean Jeannette Durlacher is business manager of a daily newspaper in Laramie, Wyo. Miss Durlacher understands the newspaper business from advertising to reporting. She is highly educated, gifted and as wide awake as a newspaper manager needs to be in order to get success.

As we journey through life let us ever and anon stop and take a dose of mind our own business.

My sisters, when we think on our mercies let us be thankful that soap is cheap and water is plentiful.

Jolly good quotation from Eleanor Kirk: "If you think you have a good thing keep it to yourself until you are sure you have got it fast. Even then don't be in a hurry. Many a good loaf has been spoiled by slack baking."

Speaking of her early attempts at literature, Sarah Grand says she "suffered terribly from want of encouragement." Heaven help us! What woman has not in whatever line of enterprise she has undertaken? The cutting, chilling, sneering, ill-natured discouragement, oftentimes even from one's own parents, stabs like cold steel. A woman never gets over it, even when she is too strong and brave to be downed and goes on and achieves in spite of her family. But many a woman who otherwise would have made for herself a noble career has had all the aspiration crushed out of her by the sneers of father, husband or brother. Heaven help them, too, for they will have it to answer for!

In a recent marital separation suit the judge decided that a man is "master of his own house," even when the house, with everything in it, belongs to her own right to the wife, and that the husband may "forbid" his wife's mother to visit his wife in the wife's house. When and where are we living? Women have all the rights they want, have they?

The fact that Smyer was so prominently connected with the Universal Refrigerator company probably accounts for the universal frost that greets his appearance on the stump.

When the Republicans of Ohio give state officials three terms of office, what is there that is reprehensible in the promotion of a faithful and competent deputy to the office of sheriff by the Democracy of Jackson county?

Simply because J. M. Farmer has made one of the best secretaries of the Licking County Agricultural Society ever had, the Republican organ argues that he should not be elected county recorder. However, it is the custom of the Democracy to elect good, tried and capable men to public office in this county, and Mr. Farmer is simply reaping the natural and logical reward of private merit and faithful public service.

The Democratic party of Licking county, in recognition of conspicuous merit and proved fitness, nominated Deputy Sheriff Linke for the shrievalty itself. No one has yet contended that Mr. Linke's election and promotion to the head of that important office would not be a deserved and proper tribute to his worth as a citizen and his capacity as a public official. His record, both in public and private station, is without a flaw and Republicans as well as Democrats are aware of the fact. He will be elected by a safe majority.

Friends of Hanna and McKinley Against Smyser.

The Advocate's dispatch from Canton in yesterday's edition shows how M. L. Smyser stands with the friends of McKinley and Hanna at the home of McKinley. The Republicans of Stark county are familiar with the factional record of Smyser. They know of his treachery to both McKinley and Hanna on more than one important occasion and they fully understand that Smyser rendered aid to keep out of the Stark county Republican members of the legislature from voting for Hanna.

They also know that Smyser was rewarded with that appointment to the circuit judgeship for service rendered the Kurtz McKisson belt. Smyser would stand a very poor chance to get Republican votes in Canton, the home of McKinley, for any office today. He is distinctly the candidate of the Foraker faction in this district now, and there are numerous Republicans in Licking, Coshocton and other counties of the district who have memories as well as the close friends of McKinley in his home county and city. Many of these friends of Hanna and McKinley cannot swallow Forakerite Smyser and they will not vote for him on the 8th of November.

What do the public think of M. L. Smyser's Congressional record? What do they think of Mr. Smyser's fine sense of delicacy and honor, when he is willing to be appointed and remain on an investigating committee appointed to investigate a certain company of whose stock he had $20,000, and remained on that committee till he was forced off by his colleagues? Isn't he a nice kind of man to attempt to send to congress and ask honest and intelligent men to vote for him? For the sad fact remains that Mr. Smyser, notwithstanding the infidelity and dishonesty of so doing, would have remained on the committee had he not been forced off by his colleagues. That transaction and the part Mr. Smyser played in it is a blot upon Mr. Smyser's record that can neither be excused nor forgotten. Like Eanquo's ghost it will not down, but will rise up to condemn him as unfit and unworthy of public trust on the 8th of November.

The Republicans of Licking county generally are trying to fight the present campaign on their old tactics. That is, they are trying a game of bluff. They are claiming everything with confidence and making boasts in which they do not themselves believe. They think, possibly, that by their tactics they can discourage some weak-kneed Democrats or some independent Republicans out of voting the Democratic ticket. But their bluff is discounted in advance. Intelligent people know that the Republican bosses are fighting for their lives to regain their fast slipping hold on the people, and that a tide of Democratic victory will sweep over the land on the 8th day of November.

It's up to Smyer to explain.

CARD FROM WM. P. YOUNG

Defending Clement L. Riley, the Democratic Candidate for Auditor, Against Falsehoods Circulated by Friends of the Republican Candidate.

Clergers for the Republican candidate for auditor, being unable to make votes for him on the ground of qualification or fitness, continue to assail Mr. Riley, the Democratic candidate, by circulating statements against him that they know are false and have been disproved. For this reason The Advocate herewith reproduces the card of ex-Clerk of the Court, Wm. P. Young, showing the falsity of the charge that Mr. Riley was a candidate for clerk of the court on the Populist ticket the same year that Mr. Young was defeated for that office. Mr. Young's card states the fact distinctly that Mr. Riley was not a candidate that year, and is as follows:

Newark, O., Oct. 19, 1904.
In justice to Clement L. Riley, the Democratic candidate for County Auditor, who is being made the subject of unjust criticism at the hands of the Republicans, I desire to make this statement:

In 1891 I was elected County Clerk and Mr. Riley was a candidate on the People's Party ticket at that time.

I was defeated in 1894 for County Clerk and Mr. Riley was not on any ticket that year. The entire Republican ticket state and county, carried Licking county, and I went down with it.

The Hon. Martin Luther Smyser, during his single term in the billion-dollar congress, did only one thing that attracted any public attention. That was getting on and staying on the investigation committee appointed to investigate Green B. Raum and the Universal Refrigerator company until he was smoked out and forced to get off the committee. This action was taken by a Republican Congress because it was discovered during the progress of the investigation that Smyser had $20,000 of the stock of the company that was to be investigated in his own pocket. Even a Republican congress could not stand for such high-handed indecency as this, and a resolution was offered and would have passed to remove Smyser from the committee had he not forestalled action by resigning from the committee himself. This is the Hon. Martin Luther Smyser's record as appears in the Congressional Record of September 2, 1900, on page 10,257.

Why not have Judge Smyser spend another week or so in Licking county during the present campaign? There are several hundred good Hanna Republicans who would be delighted to have him tell the whole history of the part he played in the Kurtz-McKisson conspiracy to defeat Hanna for senator. Hanna is dead now and Judge Smyser could tell in eloquent terms how better it is to be a "living dog than a dead lion."

It's up to Smyer to explain.

the balance of the Democratic ticket. Mr. Riley is an honest and capable man and deserves the support of all Democrats. This statement is made freely and with the hope that no one will be misled by the false stories that are being circulated.

W. P. YOUNG.
The above statement from Mr. Young refutes completely all the unjust talk that has been circulated against Mr. Riley. He was not a candidate on the Populist ticket the year that Mr. Young was defeated for re-election as clerk of the court. On the contrary he voted for Mr. Young that year. As has already been stated in these columns Mr. Riley was not elected at a convention of the old People's Party back in the year 1891. But the very next year Mr. Riley was back in line with his party, as were nearly all the other participants in that People's Party convention of 1891. Mr. Riley took an active part in the May meeting of the Democracy for 1892 and served as the Perry township member of the committee to select delegates to the Democratic District Judicial convention. HE HAS BEEN A FAITHFUL, LOYAL, HARD-WORKING DEMOCRAT EVER SINCE.

MEETING
Of the Jefferson Club Held Thursday Night—Good Man Presides as President.

The new Jefferson club, composed of a large number of representative Democrats of Newark, with a constantly growing enrollment, held another enthusiastic meeting in the city hall Thursday evening.

After the business of the session was concluded and satisfactory reports had been received from the several committees appointed last week, President A. C. Davis called upon a number of gentlemen present for speeches.

Mr. Davis, who is past master as a presiding officer, has shown by his several short speeches to the club that he is a close student of political economy and American politics. While he has never taken an active part in local politics before the present campaign, he has always been an ardent supporter of the ticket and of the principles for which Democracy stands.

The club knew what it was about when it elected Mr. Davis as president. A better worker, a more energetic and more capable man would have been hard to find.

The club will hold its next meeting next Tuesday evening in the city council chamber.

TAINTED BLOOD

Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1903.
Some four years ago I was suffering from impure blood and a general rundown condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and had an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S., and after taking seven or eight bottles my skin was cleared of all eruptions and took on a ruddy, healthy glow that assured me that my blood had been restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite was restored, as I could eat anything put before me, and as I regained my appetite
I increased in weight, and that "tired feeling" which worried me so much disappeared, and I was once again my old self.
I heartily recommend S. S. S. as the best blood purifier and tonic made, and strongly advise its use to all those in need of such medicine. VICTOR STEUBINS, Cor. Barthman and Washington Aves.

Wheeling, W. V., May 28, 1903.
My system was run down and my joints ached and pained me considerably. I had used S. S. S. before and knew what it was, so I purchased a bottle of it and have taken several bottles and the aches and pains are gone, my blood has been cleared and my general health built up. I can testify to it as a blood purifier and tonic.

JAPANESE

DINNER ENJOYED BY GUESTS OF DENISON SIGS.

New Member of the Fraternity Served Japanese Delicacies—The Day's News of Granville

Granville, O., Oct. 25.—The members of Sigma Chi fraternity entertained a number of friends on Thursday evening with a Japanese dinner. The dinner, eaten with the regular chopsticks, and decidedly Japanese in character, was unique and original in every detail. The various articles of food which comprised the menu were brought by Mr. Toyoyuki Watanabe, the young Japanese student at Denison, from the Japanese department at the World's Fair at St. Louis, and are considered Japanese delicacies. Much merriment was caused by the necessity of the use of the chopsticks, with which most Americans are hardly familiar. The entire success of the affair was due to the efforts and arrangements of the new Japanese
"Sig," Mr. Watanabe, and the guests who numbered as follows, spent a most delightful evening: Misses Elizabeth and Edna Thornton, Kate Chambers, Florence Nickels, Marjorie Williams,
Florence Fulton, Ethel Brillhart, Mary
and Pearl Ferguson and Lena Willis.
Mr. Watanabe's uncle is major general of the second corps of the First Japanese army, and is one of Japan's ablest strategists. If Mr. Watanabe had been at home, he would have been a member of the Twentieth regiment, in which were nearly all his former classmates at the Japan Military Academy. In the battle of Liao Yang, out of the regiment's complement of 2,600 men and officers, all were killed except twelve men and one officer.

The Betas gave a very enjoyable supper to a number of young lady friends on Wednesday evening. Those who enjoyed their hospitality were Misses Edith Thomas, Marion Lamb,
Edna Thornton, Louise Bond, Bertha
Stevens, Mary McKibbin, Vera Edson,
Stella Moore, Stella Case, Lena Willis, Nabel Phillips, Irene Pennington and Mrs. Fenar.

The Freshmen of Denison gave a party at the King home on the Sharon Valley road.

The Sophomores will be entertained
this evening at the Owens home near Newark.

The Seniors will entertain each other
this evening at the Malone home,
on the Newark road.

Prof. and Mrs. R. S. Colwell very charmingly entertained the members of the faculty on Wednesday evening.
Games were indulged in and a bountiful
and delicious supper was served during the evening.

The many friends of Mrs. E. S.
Shepardson will miss her from her accustomed place for some weeks to come, as she is now in Boston, Mass., visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Pomeroy.

NEW GAS FIELD

Inspected by Party of Columbus Men on Thursday--
Fifty People Taken Over the Territory--Company Wants Columbus Franchise.

Nearly 50 Columbus persons, members of council, city officials and business men, inspected the gas properties of the Columbus Gas company in Licking county Thursday.

The sentiment of the visitors in the main was complimentary to the gas company.

Eight wells, which produce approximately 31,000,000 feet of gas daily,
were visited. The company has additionally four wells that are being drilled now. In all their holdings aggregate 35,000 acres of contiguous territory claimed to be gas bearing.

The party left the Buckeye Lake car
two miles west of Hebron, and in buggies, 10 in all, and one large picnic wagon, took a circling route through the gas field to Hebron, arriving there at 2:30 p. m. There the company supplied an elaborate luncheon.

Following the luncheon the franchise proposition was briefly discussed by Director Bohl of the board of service, and Franklin Rubrecht, attorney for gas company. Bohl did not commit himself on the proposition, but said that the greatest problem before Columbus for the future was cheap fuel.

If the company was to be permitted to use the city streets for the laying of gas mains, it should be only on the consideration that there would be cheap gas provided. The franchise should not be variable in terms, but specific and unquestioned. Bohl believed from the investments made already that the company was in earnest and meant well.

Rubrecht for the company, said that they were not attempting any bunko game. They were willing to show what they had and to do what they promised. The company was capitalized at $100,000 and there was no stock for sale. They want to do a legitimate business and only asked an opportunity to legitimately compete for the city gas supply.

All of the councilmen were present save Dr. Warner and Dr. Griffin. The South Side Business and Improvement association was strongly represented, and the North Side board of trade and the West Side board of trade were also represented.

It is in Union township also that the Heisey company of Newark has large holdings of gas land. The people of Newark will on November 8 vote on the proposition to grant the Heisey company a franchise.

INJURIES PROVED FATAL

Student Homer Brown Who Fell from a Box Car
While Listening to Senator Chas. W. Fairbank's Speech Monday Died Early Friday Morning.

Death came to the relief of Homer Brown, the 18-year-old Denison student, who fell from a box car on which he was standing in order to get a better view of the proceedings at the meeting, addressed by Senator Chas.
W. Fairbanks, at the Panhandle depot last Monday afternoon, and at 1:30 Friday morning he breathed his last,
after over three days of suffering.

The account of young Brown's sad and peculiar accident as published in The Advocate Tuesday, was correct in every detail, and members of the family stated Friday morning that it was the only correct account printed in Newark.

With a number of others Mr. Brown had climbed on top of the box car and while waiting for the Fairbanks' special train they indulged in various amusements to while away the time.
Among other things was rocking the car and this annoyed a driver of a lumber wagon, who began striking at those on top with his whip. Brown fit attempting to avoid the whip, stepped backward and not realizing how close he was to the edge, fell to the tracks.
He alighted on his head and shoulder and sustained a number of severe bruises. He was given temporary relief at the City Drug store, and afterward taken to his home, 638 West Main street, where his condition became more and more alarming as the hours went by. He recovered sufficiently on Tuesday morning to tell his mother a connected story of the accident, but after that was for most of the time in a semi-conscious condition.

It was finally announced by the physicians that the young man's spine, about the cervical vertebrae, was involved in the injuries and on Thursday all hope of his recovery was abandoned. His father, W. H. Brown, who is connected with the Big Six Lumber company of West Virginia, who was in Fucker county, that state, was notified and immediately started for Newark, arriving about 4 o'clock Friday morning, too late to see his son alive.

Homer Curtis Brown was born in Hopewell township, in September, 1886, and has always lived in Licking county. He was an only child, and was the pride and hope of his parents.
A naturally vigorous mentality was being supplemented by a higher education, and for this he had entered the freshman class at Denison, his family having moved to Newark from Clay Lick, only last Friday, so as to be nearer the young man's school work.
He was of a disposition that gains friends and keeps them, and he was popular among his classmates, honored by neighbors and intimates, and respected by all who knew him. He was a consistent Christian, being a member of the Mt. Carmel church in Franklin township.

The funeral will take place on Sunday. Short services will be conducted at the home at 10:30 a. m., and the remains will then be taken to Brushy Fork where the principal services will be held in the church there at 2 p. m.
The interment will be in Brushy Fork cemetery.

DEATH

OF MISS CYNTHIA J. WILSON ON THURSDAY EVENING.

Her Aged Sister Lies in an Adjoining Room Very Ill—A Pioneer of the City Gone.

The death of Miss Cynthia Jane Wilson, aged 81, occurred at her home, 173 West Locust street about 5 o'clock
Thursday evening, after an illness extending over a period of probably a year, the last few weeks having been bedfast.

The death of Miss Wilson is surrounded with circumstances more than usually sad. On a bed in an adjoining room lies her sister, Miss Sara J. Wilson, over 94 years old, helpless and suffering from the effects of a fall that she sustained some weeks ago.

These two remarkable women were born in Miami, O., but about 70 years ago moved with their parents, John and Margaret Wilson, and have since lived here, more than half a century residing in the present house.

Since the death of their parents
many years ago, they have lived absolutely alone, ministering to their own simple wants and commanding the respect of the entire community. Within the past year, however, Miss Jane's mind has failed and the physical infirmities of both made it almost impossible for them to properly care for themselves, and Mr. J. N. Wilson, a distant relative, was appointed guardian for them.

Both women possessed active minds

Brother of George L. Warner Had a Narrow Escape from Death—His Left Arm Fractured.

Mr. Willard F. Warner, chief clerk
in the United States treasurer's office in Washington, met with a very serious accident on Wednesday. Mr.
Warner was standing on a trestle viewing the construction of the new Pennsylvania railway station, when a train backed down on him, knocking him from the track and breaking his left arm between the elbow and shoulder. Mr. Warner also received several cuts about the head. The unfortunate man was removed to Casualty hospital where his arm was dressed and several hours later he was moved to his rooms in the Concord hotel.
Mr. Warner is a brother of Mr. Geo.
L. Warner of this city.

Mr. Undergrat, a sister of Mr. Warner, has received a later message stating that he is now resting comfortably
but that the attending physicians refuse to allow any one to see him.

DIDN'T SHOOT

But Officer Pat Carroll Had His Friend
Callan "Going" at the City Prison.

Officer Pat Carroll, who dearly loves
a joke, got off a good one on Officer James Callan Friday morning. Carroll found an old "tuger" run with the engine's head still adhering to it, and then arranged it so that only the tiger's head was visible above the pavement in the back yards of the city prison. Returning into the office of the prison he told Officer Callan that a wild animal was in the back yard and wanted him to go out and kill it. Callan got excited and called for a cannon, but not finding any rushed out with his revolver to kill the "varmint." The laugh was on him when he discovered what the wild animal really was.

VINOL FOR THE AGED

Frank D. Hall, Our Well Known Druggist, Prepared to Show That Nothing Equals Vinol for Old People.

Said Mr. Hall: "It is a pleasure to receive letters like the following in regard to our Vinol, as they fully substantiate our claims as to what it will do."

Mr. Joseph Bankson of Decatur, Ill., writes: "I am in my 78th year, and for some time I have been losing strength and suffered with a chronic cold and lung trouble, until I was seriously ill and could not go out of doors. My son sent me some Vinol. I commenced to take it and it has simply worked wonders for me. I feel better and stronger than I have for years, and my cough is all gone."

"You see," said Mr. Hall, "Vinol contains in a concentrated form all the strengthening, healing properties of cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil or grease to upset the stomach, and no sickening drugs, and for this reason it has remarkable power to cure chronic coughs and colds, build up and invigorate the weak and aged, makes rich, red blood, cure stomach troubles and restore the convalescent to perfect health."

"I just wish every aged, run down or debilitated person in Newark would try Vinol on our guarantee to return the money paid for it every time it fails."—Frank D. Hall, druggist

Joseph Bankson.

DEATH OF AGED RESIDENT OF GRANVILLE

Within Past Week That of Mrs. Sarah Greze Who Passed Away Thursday Night.

Granville, O., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Sarah Greze, another one of the oldest women of Granville, has passed away. Mrs. Greze died on Thursday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, on Erie street, after an illness of some time. The deceased was born in Washington, D. C., on May 18, 1815, and was in her 89th year of her age. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Johnson home, conducted by Dr. C. J. Baldwin, pastor of the Baptist church. The remains will be taken to Baltimore, Md., on Pan Handle No. 29 tonight for interment.

This is the fourth old lady to die here within the past few days. Mrs. Harriet Hancock died on October 25. Mrs. Phoebe Johnson, 89, died on October 22, and Mrs. Jane Humphrey, 89, widow of Licking county's first Probate Judge, passed away on October 26, and was buried today.

AMUSEMENTS

There are very few people who have not seen and enjoyed Richard F. O'Connell's famous "drawn" of "Buster Brown."

Mr. Melville B. Raymond, who has had many successes has our chaste dramatic rights to this character, his family, and his appearance, and has had made the central character in a magnificently mounted farce comedy in which musical features are introduced and there is a chorus, a ballet and an aggregation of girls of surpassing beauty, arrayed in clothes by Wamamaker, that would make Solomon and the Queen of Sheba green with envy. Some thirty people are engaged in the representation. At the Auditorium this evening.

Buster Brown as the German Girl.

"WHEN WOMEN LOVE."

As long as the world goes round there will be conspiracies against goodness and virtue. In the play "When Women Love," there is a story of heart interest that comes more than ordinary interest. A young girl wedged with the care of an invalid mother and younger sister, struggles against poverty and privation, is accused of crime, a man made in the old image persecutes, accuses, and in the end finds the old adage is only too true, "the wages of sin is death." The play is presented by a strong cast and the entire production is carried including some of the best scenic effects ever shown on the popular priced stage. At the Auditorium Tuesday, November 1. Seat sale opens Monday.

EBEN HOLDEN NOV. 4.

Miss Blanche Kendall, who is to play the role of Hope Browner in Herrick & Eldredge's production of "Eben Holden," which will be seen here November 1, tells the following story of meeting with a legal friend on the streets of Salt Lake City last summer.

"I met this young man on the way to the court house one morning," said Miss Kendall, "and observing that he carried a number of law books up to his ears I remarked: 'Why, I am surprised to see you with these books; I thought that you carried the law in your head.' 'I do,' he responded, positively but lamely. 'These books are for the judges.'"

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary of the Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collinswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular. I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpke.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness."—Miss FANNIE KUMPE, 1922 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, nervous prostration, and all forms of woman's special ills.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

THE W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held on Tuesday afternoon in the parlors of the First M. E. Church. The devotional was read by Mrs. Keller.

It was expected that a full report would be given at this meeting of the convention recently held in Columbus by the delegates, but they were not ready to report, and the reports will be given at the meeting to be held next Tuesday.

Mrs. Sisson gave an excellent talk on rescue work. Hope is the anchor of the soul. Without it all would be desolate indeed, and though it seems we have a little progress, we are still in the same old groove. Without hope how dreary would be the world, appearing to the care worn pilgrims one wide desert beset with trouble and embittered with sorrow. But hope lights us on our way, where darkness hovers and gloom oppresses. Hope strengthens our faltering steps, and presents to our view a pleasing prospect. Hope raises the sinking heart and restores the courage which begins to droop. How many are doomed to wander in this wide world alone, unpitied and unknown? What can cheer the mind, raise the drooping soul and throw a cheerful light on the footsore? It is hope, sweet hope. This ministering spirit of Heaven who visiteth the abodes of misery, wipeth away the tear from sorrow's eye and chaseth away the anguish of despair, and when the solemn hour of death shall come and the lamp of life but faintly glimmers in the feeble flame, hope still bid us look to a better and brighter world than this, to live and reign with the Blessed Redeemer in never ending joys, as eat hath not heard, nor eye seen that endless bliss which is prepared for those who love and serve God.

Register tonight before 9 o'clock.

Mr. Bryan explained why he wished his friends to give their active support to Parker and Davis, saying that while the election of the Democratic ticket will not insure the immediate adoption of the policies for which he stands, it will pave the way for their adoption, and that the election of Roosevelt and Fairbanks would delay for four years the beginning of needed reforms.

MR. SWALLOW

The Prohibition Candidate for the Presidency Speaks in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 28.—Rev. Silas C. Swallow, Prohibition candidate for president, spoke to a crowd which comfortably filled the Lincoln auditorium. Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Secretary of War William H. Taft addressed a large Republican mass meeting here. His address was devoted entirely to a discussion of Philippine question.

Against Divorce.

Marshalltown, Ia., Oct. 28.—The Iowa Baptist convention in resolutions declared against the divorce evil. The ministers pledged themselves to marry only innocent parties.

Cleveland's Statement.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 28.—Former President Cleveland said that he had been obliged to reconsider his promise to speak at a Democratic mass meeting in Cooper Union, New York, Nov. 2. The announcement that Mr. Cleveland would address the meeting was made Wednesday. He further said that he hoped to be able to attend a political rally in Newark, N. J., on Friday of next week. He said that while his interest in the canvass was immense, he would not attend any other political meeting this fall.

Fatal Quarrel.

Brownstown, Ind., Oct. 28.—Lawton Jackson, a saloon keeper at Vallonia, was shot and instantly killed by Jake Conrad, a bartender, whom Jackson had recently discharged. The two men met at the saloon and a quarrel ensued. Both men drew revolvers and fired. Several shots were exchanged in rapid succession but only one took effect, and that was in the body of Jackson.

Cotton Bulletin.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The census bureau issued a second bulletin of the season showing the quantity of cotton ginned as reported by its agents up to Oct. 18 to be 1,967,675 running bales, as against 1,272,157 running bales reported to the same date in 1903.
